3. Products for comfortable and cool camping
4. Products for making you feel closer to nature

Information

Camping has been recognized as an everyday activity recently. It became dramatically popular as a leisure activity that allows people to maintain social distancing during COVID-19. SNS has also had a major impact on this boom. Camping is one of the hottest categories on Japan Street. The number of camp-related products registered to Japan Street more than tripled since FY2021, and business meetings regarding camping are also increasing rapidly. In this issue, we will introduce trends and popular products in the growing camping boom. Let's make camping more fun and exciting for everyone with these products which can satisfy campers and attract people with no camping experience!

Making camping more everyday!

Special Interview CAPTAIN STAG

The number of inquiries for camping goods has been increasing on Japan Street. Above all, CAPTAIN STAG, from Sanjo, Japan, has had the largest number of business meetings so far. They offer a wide variety of affordable products of high quality. We visited them for an interview to find out what kind of items are asked for by consumers right now.

How are sales of camping equipment going these days?

Since the pandemic broke out in 2020, we have seen a rapid increase in sales of camp-related items domestically and internationally. Our strength is the speed to develop related items of best-selling products prior to the demands rising up from customers. We always keep an eye on the market trends by analyzing the sales data in detail. In this process, we have noticed the transition of what people are expecting for camping as experiences at campsites.

Mr. Kanazawa, Supervisor

What specific changes are taking place?

They are looking for more relaxing camping experiences. Camping in Japan used to have the image of a large group of friends or families spending time together or the image of testing their limits in inconvenient environments.

Now, they go out to campsites for the purpose of having a relaxed time and try to get away from the hustle and bustle of their daily lives by having a bonfire, taking time to cook or just reading books. On the other hand, camping solo is becoming more common in Japan. They camp alone to enjoy themselves in quietness and calmness. Among them, easy-to-assemble, transportable and compact items are so popular. We expect the trend will go on for a while. "Solo Group Camping" are also catching on these days. It came out of camping solo. They enjoy camping alone in a group by bringing foods they cook with their camping tools and eat together but they sleep in their own single tents. They can feel a lively atmosphere with others while using their favorite camping gear.

This foldable aluminum table is extremely lightweight. Perfect for camping solo.

Are there any other items you feel it's getting popular these days?

The items that make tent sites stylish are very popular. As the increase of social media users, people can easily share their camping experiences and have opportunities to see various camping styles. Many campers are stimulated and want to make their own tent site cool by seeing them online.

Especially in Asia, social media have a strong influence. The series of unified designs became extremely popular as it helps your camping looks stylish in harmony. We offer customers a wide range of products even in a single collection so you can have everything in the same series. We are getting inquiries from not only outdoor goods stores but also specialty stores and our customer base is also becoming diversified

According to your story, are age or social groups of campers changing?

Yes, they are. Although it used to be seen as a leisure activity for adult men, now the number of young people and women who go out for camping have been increased.

In addition to the influence of social media and the pandemic of Covid-19, the development of cooling goods, comfortable, convenient items have made camping more familiar with many people. Military-colored products used to be the mainstream, but items of natural colors are more easily accepted by all generations.

As the CAPTAIN STAG brand, what do you work on from now on?

As camping is being shifted from a special event to a part of daily life, the customer base of campers will keep expanding and the purposes for camping will diversify. We would like to further enhance the product range within our popular series to meet detailed needs.

Finally, please say a few words for the international buyers reading

We are keen to export to any countries or regions. We are pleased that we have received many contacts from different countries. Our strength is the speed to develop related items of best-selling products prior to the demands rising up from customers. All products are unique in high quality and affordable. A strong supporter that meets your needs with an overwhelmingly wide range of products. That's CAPTAIN STAG.

Welcome! CAPTAIN STAG's Showroom

In the showroom we visited for the interview, products of CAPTAIN STAG are displayed like an actual floor of larger retail stores. It helps you come up with an idea for sales methods. You can experience the different images of each collection at the tent area as each series is arranged separately. As they welcome you warmly, please feel free to contact and visit there.

The pots and pans are line up on the entire shelves.

Trend 1 Products for solo camping

Solo camping is a form of camping where people enjoy camping alone. Various ways to enjoy solo camping have emerged, such as working remotely at a campsite on weekdays and doing digital detox. We introduce compact size products that are easy to carry so that anyone can easily take on the challenge of solo camping or solo group camping!

Cavalltta solo

Cavalltta duo

Cavalltta solo / Cavalltta duo

This fire pit and cooktop is recommended for those who want to relax by a warm fire. Made of stainless steel, weighing only 800g and smaller than an A5 sheet of paper, it is very easy to assemble and is truly a one-person fire pit. A slightly larger, B5 size, Cavalltta Duo is also available for those who wish to do group camping.

Lift-up Type Tabletop Charcoal Hibachi Grill

With conventional BBQ grills, to add charcoal while cooking you have to move the food onto a plate, take the grilling grate off with tongs, then add the charcoal. To limit the amount of work, we made the structure of this hibachi grill convenient and hassle-free. Just by lifting the handle, you can easily move the grilling grate to add or remove charcoal without having to take anything off! This hibachi grill is made compact, slim (thin body, height 15 cm/5.9”), and can be neatly stored. It is also easy to carry, weighing just 2.5 kg/5.5lbs. The legs are made of a heat-resistant plastic that makes it difficult for heat to transfer, allowing you to have a BBQ even on a tabletop safely and securely!

Also, very recommended for BBQ picnics, and plays an excellent role in camping! So next time you are out camping how about using this hibachi grill as a new way to cook?

Trend 3 Products for comfortable and cool camping

Assembling tents, cooking outside and moving around more often than usual, camping is of course hot in summer, and even in winter it can get sweaty. That discomfort has kept people away from camping, but now they can overcome the heat and enjoy camping with a variety of comfort items! To make the camping experience more enjoyable for more people, here are some cooling products that make camping comfortable even in hot environments.

Stainless Steel Keeper

This water tank keeps cold drinks chilled for a long time. It is a strong ally in hydration, which is indispensable for heat protection. Its high durability against alkaline ionized water and sports drinks makes it ideal for heat stroke prevention. Unlike typical water tanks and servers, it is made of stainless steel with a shiny surface and is very beautiful. In addition, the lid prevents the contents from leaking, meaning you don't have to fear even if it falls over.

Trend 4 Products for making you feel closer to nature

More and more urban campers are going camping for the purpose of relaxation. We introduce products with natural materials that blend in with the landscape and allow people to feel closer to nature. They are also very useful for camping in your gardens or on your balconies. By using these products made of natural materials, you can enjoy a natural atmosphere at home!

Linen Coffee Filter

Hand-woven coffee filters made by the weaver of Nara Zarashi, high-grade hemp fabric (please see the next page for details). The natural texture of the hemp, which is made from plants, is very beautiful and soothing just by using it. It is used the same as paper filters. It is eco-friendly because it can be used repeatedly by rinsing it with water after use. It dries in about an hour after use and does not lose its shape when carried, making it perfect for camping scenes. The difference between the "at work" and "after work" filters is the thickness of the yarn and the density of the fabric. The "at work" filter is woven with a slightly thicker yarn, which drips more slowly, resulting in a richer flavor. The "after work" filter is woven with finer yarn and drips more quickly than the "raw" version, giving it a lighter flavor.

TONGI

Normally metallic, these wooden tongs are created by bending a single piece of Japanese cypress, one of the most representative and high-grade types of wood used in Japan. The scent of cypress has a tranquilizing effect and is used in homes, furniture and hot springs. They can be easily gripped without exerting effort due to its flexibility! You can also use them as chopsticks.

What is Nara Zarashi?

Nara Zarashi is a type of linen cloth that has been dried in the sun and whitened by ultraviolet rays. The name refers to Nara, known as a production center of hand-woven linen cloth. From ancient times, Nara Zarashi was used to make tea bags for boiling tea leaves, and as a cloth for making clothing for samurai warriors. The entire process is made by the hands of a single craftsman.
