(Messages to your potential clients in Japan)

Tilleke & Gibbins is world-renowned for our intellectual property practice in Southeast Asia, and has long been regarded as a market leader in several jurisdictions. Our team in Bangkok has been operating in Cambodia for many years and, due to high demand from our clients, our firm incorporated a new office in Phnom Penh, Cambodia, in 2013.

Supported by our offices in Indonesia, Laos, Myanmar, Thailand, and Vietnam, our Phnom Penh office has quickly established itself as a leading intellectual property practice in the region, and received numerous accolades for its innovative, business-focused, and practical approach to handling intellectual property rights in this frontier jurisdiction.

Our Phnom Penh office provides guidance to clients on all aspects of intellectual property in Cambodia. We also advise on licensing and regulatory issues for clients in key sectors, including agribusiness, chemicals, food and beverages, franchising, life sciences, logistics and transportation, and technology. With over 6,000 active cases in the country, our team of local Khmer advisors and foreign consultants have played instrumental roles in helping multinational and domestic clients to build their brands and protect their innovation in Cambodia.
